We adhere to all applicable legal and industry standards regarding the protection of personal information and data.

Besides the day-to-day operation of your account, we may use the information to create statistical data in order to fulfil our legal and accounting requirements, analyze our business, as well as managing risks and internal business procedures. If we wish to use your information in a manner different than the purpose for which it was collected, we will ask you for your consent prior to such use.

B- Communication

When applying for an account with us or when providing your contact details via this Website, you can expect to be contacted by us via telephone and/or email in relation to the account and/or announcements or updates to the products and services. Whenever sending an email or other communication to us, we may retain this communication to process your queries, respond to requests and/or improve our services.

C- Disclosure of Information

i. Within Tauro Markets:

To provide you with our services, Tauro Markets may disclose your information to any of our group companies. By sharing your personal information, we will ensure that the same level of protection is afforded to you as is applied by Tauro Markets.

ii. To third parties:

A disclosure to a third party may include the following:

- Credit reference agencies or other organizations that help us and others make credit decisions and reduce the incidence of fraud.
- While carrying out identity fraud prevention or credit control checks.
- To regulators and governmental agencies in any jurisdiction, where we are required to do so by law; and/or
- Where there is a public duty to disclose such information.

We will not disclose your personal information to third parties, except as described in this Policy.

D- Prevention and detection of crime

We may need to pass your information on to Governmental departments, regulatory bodies, the police, law enforcement agencies or to a court of law. This would be done, for example, to assist in the prevention of a crime (money laundering/fraud), to meet legal requirements or for other lawful purposes.

E- Correcting and updating of information

We make every effort to ensure that the information we hold for you is at all times accurate and up to date. However, should your information change from what you have provided to Tauro Markets, you should promptly notify us of such changes.

F- Right of access to your information

You have the right to access some, or all of the information held about you by Tauro Markets. You can obtain this insight by making an inquiry to us in writing. We reserve the right to claim a small fee for sending the material as assessed on a case-by-case basis. All requests should be sent via the Compliance Department.

G- Monitoring

H- We record all our telephone calls for security and training purposes. Emails and other messaging systems are also monitored.

7- Information Security/Storage

All information you provide to us is stored on secure servers. Where we may have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of our site and/or use any other of our services, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share your password with anyone.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to us; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorized access.
